

 Jacobs
MUSIC SINCE 1900 presents Andy Kahn

A Free Concert at Steinway Recital Hall
Wine & Cheese Reception follows performance

Wed April 27, 2011 7 pm

Music by Intention:
Spread the Words & Music

ANDY KAHN

Wednesday, April 27, 2011 @ 7 pm Admission: FREE
1718 Chestnut Street Philadelphia PA 19103 215-568-7800

Andy Kahn's Music by Intention: Spread the Words and Music piano concerts feature the songbooks of American composers Cole Porter, George Gershwin, Irving Berlin, Jerome Kern, Richard Rodgers & Lorenz Hart, Harry Warren, Johnny Mercer and many others.

Andy is committed to preserving America's unique musical art form, Jazz and the Standard Song. For more than 40 years, he has researched works of the songwriters who provided the foundation for Swing and Jazz, America's enduring, unique contribution to music and the arts. Andy performs his Music by Intention concerts in theaters and nightclubs. His shows have benefitted charitable organizations and have also been presented at educational institutions.

Andy Kahn weaves a musical spell, interacting closely with his audiences. His affable personality and obvious love affair with music have defined his concerts presented in the USA, Europe and South America. Andy plays and sings American standard songs, a musical genre surviving for more than a century. He injects charisma and charm into his vast repertoire, offering anecdotes about American composers whose "musical intention" was to help shape their country's ideals, instilling qualities and attitudes into the lives of the American people.

 Jacobs
MUSIC SINCE 1900

jacobsmusiccompany.com

1718 Chestnut Street Philadelphia PA 19103 215-568-7800

musicbyintention.com Spread the Words and Music!